

Security Solutions for Manufacturing and Logistics Organisations

At G4S, we work with some of the nation's leading manufacturing and logistics companies to mitigate threats which can result in production interruptions, health and safety challenges, and site intrusions.

As the world's leading security company, we have proven expertise in building safe, secure environments for the manufacturing and logistics sector. We combine professional personnel with cutting-edge technology to create comprehensive, cost-effective solutions that mitigate business risk and ensure production continuity.

The focus for each manufacturing and logistic organisation may vary, however, the threats and challenges that you face remain similar:

- Protecting your employees, visitors and assets.
- Protecting your business information and company assets/reputation.
- Implementing a robust approach to HSE.
- Ensuring business continuity & shrinkage reduction.
- Balancing risk whilst driving efficiencies.

Benefits of Working with G4S

- Specialist knowledge of building global security solutions in the Manufacturing & Logistics sector.
- Security matter experts who take a consultative approach to understand your requirements.
- Multifaceted officers trained in emergency care provision to provide initial safety incident response.
- A holistic, risk based approach to security where we'll recommend the most appropriate combination of personnel and technology to address your challenges based on your budget and appetite for risk.
- Access to a world leading range of security disciplines and technology including, Risk Management, Integrated Electronic security systems, Onsite and Mobile Guarding, Canine and Lone worker protection systems which feed into our security operations centre.
- Consolidation of your security supply chain, resulting in clear accountability for delivery and mitigating your risk of data exposure and reducing costs.
- Integrated operational systems across multiple locations to provide transparent, consolidated management information and monitor performance against contract SLA's.
