SUPPLY CHAIN SECURITY AND INVESTIGATIONS

Ninety-eight percent of products are transported through various supply chain nodes, from manufacturing facilities to distribution centers and warehouses to ports and / or airports. G4S helps organizations improve supply chain security, reduce risk and increase profitability.

Compliance and Program Measures

Supply chain audits of your suppliers, factories and global operations are an essential component to safeguarding your brand. Compliance with social responsibility, sustainability, trade security, anti-bribery, health and safety and product quality assurance are challenges organizations face in addition to the Just-In-Time supply chain environment. G4S' Supply Chain Security experts understand these risks and challenges, and provide a range of tools and services to effectively manage them. G4S experts utilize their intellectual capital to ensure compliance with the following import / export programs to name a few:

- BASC (Business Alliance for Secure Commerce)
- CTPAT (Customs Trade Partnership Against Terrorism)
- EU-AEO (European Union Authorized Economic Operator)
- OEA (Operadores Económicos Autorizados)
- WCO-AEO (World Customs Organization-Authorized Economic Operator)
- ISO 28000
- Canadian PIP (Partners in Protection)
- Phytosanitary - ISPM-15 Compliance
- TAPA (Transport Asset Protection Association)

Incident Response and Investigations

The impact of cargo theft can be devastating. A solitary episode of cargo theft or product tampering can lead to lost sales, product contamination and potential recall as well as brand damage and impact the bottom line. G4S helps mitigate these risks by establishing best practices and operational efficiencies to manage product transportation and logistics security, program compliance and expedited border clearance. In the event of a cargo theft incident, global resources with deep local knowledge respond immediately and assist with closing the vulnerability.
