A Message from the President

I hope you are all having a great summer and as usual thank you for your efforts and performance. Although the competition is considerable, we continue to renew customer contracts and win new ones!

Performance. Appearance. Communications. Safety (PACS). For G4S Officers, these four aspects of your job are likely to be the most critical for a variety of reasons. The first three are for you, me and the customer. The last one, safety, is for you, your kids, your significant other, your parents and the list goes on.... We want you to go home at the end of your shift exactly the way you came in for your shift!

Now, I know we all have bad days. We often deal with people in challenging environments, continually tell people "no," or they "can't do something." I know it's difficult. But when you accomplish these tasks with style, substance and showcase your training – you can make it a positive experience and possibly a game-changer. Customers and clients will notice you and your actions can become the building blocks for recognition, opportunity and career advancement.

Each year, I hear of instances where G4S teams are so committed to "over performance" that our clients will suggest pay increases for our hardworking Security Officers. So remember, if our customer doesn't know your name or if they have never complimented your service or appearance, we simply haven't added any value to their business beyond what we were contracted to do. It's a fair question to ask: Why would they want to pay more for the same service? I am not suggesting that this is your sole responsibility. It's something we work for daily as managers and we need your help.

I ask that you think about how you can make a difference to meet or exceed our customer expectations. Looking sharp is free. Proper uniform maintenance is free. A sharp, well-dressed G4S Security Officer with the proper training, mission and presence... is priceless!

The four actions above are the building blocks for all things good in our G4S world. What comes with PACS is customer satisfaction, company growth and more dollars for increases and benefits.

Your good performance equals happy G4S customers.

Biogen Honors Security Partnership with G4S

(Left) Bob Irons, Jr., Biogen Assoc. Dir. of Global Security, and (Right) James Austin, Biogen Director of Global Security, personally thanked four G4S Officers involved in the incident

Boston, MA: Biogen, a global biotechnology company, is honoring G4S for the work performed in the wake of an unfolding security incident that led to a homicide investigation.

On April 4, as a member of the G4S security team conducted a perimeter patrol, a duffel bag filled with human remains was discovered near a Biogen building. In the hours after the incident, the G4S security teams worked together with Cambridge Police, reviewing hours of security camera coverage. The quick actions led to the identification of a suspect. Thanks to the hard work of the security teams, it was determined the suspect lived in a nearby apartment complex and he was apprehended.

In May, Biogen held a special event to recognize the four G4S Officers for their exceptional performance and the strong, ongoing partnership with G4S Secure Solutions.

Background

Since 2014, G4S Secure Solutions has been honored to be the security partner for Biogen, a global biotechnology company with headquarters located in Massachusetts. G4S provides a wide variety of security services including international command center personnel, vehicle and foot patrol officers for three campuses, access control officers and special event security details.

G4S Security Officer Rescues Baby Left in Hot Car

Tucson, AZ: G4S Security Officer Joseph Jewell is being honored by the Mayor and City Council for his quick actions that saved the life of a 6-month old baby who was left inside a hot car. Officer Jewell is part of the G4S security team at the Tucson City Hall. The father of two (pictured above with his wife and son, Micah) said his "fatherly instincts" kicked in when a city employee alerted him there was a baby crying inside a car parked outside the building.

The Security Officer said he was ready to break a window to pull out the distressed child, but he found the car unlocked. Emergency crews took the baby to the hospital where she fully recovered from the incident.

"It's one of those unreal experiences like you hear about on TV, but you never figure it's going to happen to you," he said. "I'm just super grateful she's okay."

LIFESAVING AS A RESULT OF THE G4S INCIDENT

Jewell Featured on KVOA-TV, Kickstarts "Not for a Minute" Awareness Campaign

G4S Officer Jewell has helped launch a campaign reminding parents about the dangers of leaving a child in a car – even for a few minutes. Jewell was featured in a story on KVOA-TV about the recent near-tragedy at City Hall. The new education campaign – called "Not for a Minute" – is part of an effort from the United Way in Tucson.

G4S Paramedic Saves Man Who Had Heart Attack

Marty Fiel, with his wife Marla, pictured weeks after he was released from the hospital

Boynton Beach, FL: A G4S paramedic equipped with the latest Automatic External Defibrillator (AED) technology has saved the life of a man who suffered a heart attack. G4S Paramedic Anthony Alvarez, who is part of the security team for a gated community, was dispatched to the scene where Marty Fiel had collapsed. G4S Paramedic Alvarez successfully restarted Marty's heart. By the time city paramedics arrived, he was sitting upright.

LIFESAVING AS A RESULT OF THE G4S INCIDENT

Five G4S Communities Now Have Upgraded Lifesaving Capabilities

This lifesaving event has demonstrated the need for other G4S communities to upgrade their paramedic equipment with a hospital-grade AED. In the weeks after Marty's recovery, five other communities now have a LIFEPAK®15 monitor/defibrillator as part of their G4S paramedic services. The LIFEPAK®15 is the most powerful AED available to emergency responders.

When Marty Fiel collapsed, bystanders immediately tried to use a wall-mounted AED to save his life, but it was not strong enough to restart his heart. In fact, doctors told Fiel's family that his life was saved only because the G4S paramedic used the powerful LIFEPAK®15 within minutes of the life threatening event.

"We are pleased that our partnerships with these communities include the high-level, lifesaving capabilities for our G4S paramedics," said Frank Hernandez, G4S General Manager, Boca Raton, Florida. It truly makes our emergency response commensurate with municipal EMS crews, providing increased capabilities for residents."

G4S All-Stars

G4S Team Supports Exceptional Customer Service

Lisle, IL: G4S team members at Navistar World Headquarters are getting praise for their collaborative and professional work to accelerate the processing of a group of 125 visitors through the access control system. The group had been invited to attend an event at Navistar World Headquarters, but had not been previously registered. The G4S team learned of their arrival 30 minutes before the start of the event.

"This was truly a remarkable accomplishment," said Rick Nelson, G4S Project Manager. "Events like this are common and we usually have several days advance notice to process the visitor registration information. In this case, our team demonstrated composure during a crisis and completed this task in less than 20 minutes."

"We have been fortunate to have a team of dedicated Security Officers and leaders at WHQ who possess the unique combination of skills that allow them to provide us with a high level of security service coupled with great customer service," said Ryan Johanneson, Senior Regional Security Manager. "Navistar is always pleased to recognize outstanding work."

Bank Protection Officer Finds Skimming Device at ATM

Brooklyn, NY: G4S Officer Steve Sanders is being honored for protecting bank customers from criminals who tried to steal critical personal data. Sanders recently discovered a skimming device and pinhole camera at an ATM location. As a result of his diligence, he prevented a mass compromise of bank customers' account information.

Bank Officer Stops Man from "Shoulder Surfing" at Bank ATM

Pittsburg, CA: G4S Bank Protection Officer Swakemyua Muhammed is being commended for his vigilant observations that led to the arrest of a man who was "shoulder surfing" customers. Shoulder surfing is when someone stands too close to another person at an ATM, glancing to steal personal information. Police responded quickly and arrested the man.

G4S officers and personnel are the best in the security business. Their dedication and passion for their work is unsurpassed. We honor our All Stars because they are men and women of character who lead our teams displaying leadership, discipline, integrity and a “can-do” attitude.

Officers Recognized for Actions Preventing “Suicide by Train”

Redwood City, CA: Two G4S Officers are being recognized for their actions to prevent a train fatality. Security Supervisor Marvin McKinzy and Officer Nelson Rudolph were instrumental in recognizing a despondent woman at a CalTrain Station, and taking appropriate actions to prevent a fatality.

Because of the increased number of "suicide by train" incidents, G4S officers have been trained by the Santa Clara County Mental Health Association to assess signs of individuals who may be at risk to harming themselves or others. On two separate occasions, G4S Officers have been instrumental in saving the lives of despondent individuals who were standing near the train tracks.

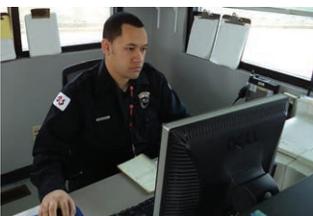

Security Officers Find Drug Suspects at Hospital

Birmingham, AL: Three G4S Officers are being commended for their response to a security alert issued for three suspects who were wanted for questioning about thefts and drug deals near a hospital.

G4S Officer Honored for Extinguishing Fire

Nashville, TN: A G4S Officer is being honored for extinguishing a fire at a large manufacturing plant, saving the facility from significant repairs and delayed production time. When G4S Officer Uriah Seui (pictured) found a grease fire, he grabbed a fire extinguisher and contained the blaze until help arrived. 2014 Security Officer of the Year

G4S has a long-standing tradition of recognizing and rewarding our Officers based on our core values. The Security Officer of the Year award is the Highest honor for G4S personnel.

G4S Security Officer of the Year Brian Polanco

Officer Brian Polanco is a great representative of our G4S team, and during his two years of service, he has proven to be an excellent Officer

When Officer Brian Polanco was dispatched to help resolve a disturbance in a busy hotel lobby, he was confronted by a person who was highly agitated. The Security Officer first attempted to speak to the man and de-escalate the situation, but the person remained uncooperative and frantic.

As the enraged man was being escorted out of the hotel lobby, he reached into his bag for a flare gun and shot Officer Polanco. The G4S Officer was hit with the flare causing burns and a broken finger. The man fled as the flare also ignited the lobby carpet. Despite his injuries, Officer Polanco managed to extinguish the fire and then chase the man to detain him until police arrived.

Officer Polanco has recovered from his injuries and has returned to work for our client, a large hotelier in Honolulu, HI.

Video: Officer of the Year Presentation

Each year, G4S receives many submissions for the Officer of the Year award from all over the USA. A committee selected these two Officers who represent the best of G4S.

G4S Officer of the Year Willie Johnson

Upscale Security Officer Willie Johnson has been part of the G4S team for four years, receiving numerous accolades and awards during his career

Security Officer Willie Johnson was on patrol around the perimeter of his worksite when he saw a vehicle on fire at the end of a road. He reported the situation to his supervisor and drove to the scene.

Once he arrived on the dead-end road, Officer Johnson saw that the small fire had quickly accelerated and was engulfing the vehicle in flames. He notified emergency services and ran to the vehicle where he found a barely conscious woman injured in the driver's seat. Despite substantial personal risk, Officer Johnson dragged the woman from the car and away from the flames. Emergency crews arrived and took the woman to the hospital. She has since fully recovered.

Police later told G4S that the elderly woman had gone missing from a nearby assisted living facility and her family had been frantically searching for her.

Idle Time Alert Triggered

Info Background: GPS in G4S Vehicles

G4S vehicles equipped with GPS tracking devices provide reassurances that Security Officers are patrolling correctly and covering the proper routes in a timely manner. For customers, it provides proof that Officers are doing their jobs. If G4S vehicles stop for a significant amount of time, it creates an Idle Time Alert.
